

Visit Cornwall this Autumn

Book direct through our website and receive a 10% Discount. Use Code NeL10

The autumn is arguably one of the best times of year to holiday or take a break in Cornwall. The crowds have thinned, and the Cornish winter hasn't kicked in yet.

Cornwall boasts beautiful views and scenery whatever the weather. The beaches and coastline, moorland and walks are all lovely to see in the autumn and winter months.

2020 and the start of 2021 have been historic years in terms of Covid and the restrictions we have all had to cope with. If you have the opportunity why not take a break away and enjoy the sights, sounds and smells of Cornwall in the quieter months. All our properties are accredited by the Visit England Good to Go and the AA Covid Confident scheme, so you can be assured all appropriate steps have been taken to make your warm cosy accommodation safe. You can find out about our properties along with viewing our covid videos on our website www.cornishholiday.info this gives you all the information about what you will find on your arrival along with everything we've put in place to keep everyone safe.

If you would like to bring your dog with you, both our Bodannon (Porthtowan) and Meadow Rise (St Columb Major) properties accept two well behaved dogs, please contact us for details.

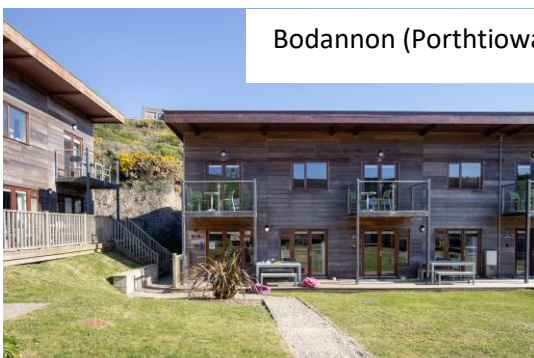

Our Porthtowan (Bodannon) and Hengar Manor properties offer short breaks, from weekend getaways to mid-week short stays we would be happy to welcome you anytime.

With lots still to see and do we have put together some ideas for you.

So why not treat yourself to a relaxing time away. Our calendars are open and up to date and it's the easiest way to find out availability on our website. Geevor Tin Mine

Why not head out to discover the history of the age of mining in Cornwall. Geevor Tin mine is a fabulous look into the history of a working mine. With underground tours it gives you a real sense of what the mining days were like over 200 years ago and up until the mine closed in April 1986. We found 'The Dry' fascinating where you can see the lockers exactly as the miners would leave them at the beginning and end of their working day. Booking is essential but can be done online www.geevor.com

Visit St Ives

With St Ives just around the coast it's always a great place to visit. Famed for its clear skies and affinity with artists such as Turner and Barbara Hepworth, it has an abundance of art galleries along with offering shopping and a huge selection of food and drink outlets. The Tate Modern is just along the sea front and has many local artists exhibiting. If you have a yearning to be out on the open sea, why not hire a boat from the harbour. Or perhaps just a leisurely walk along the sea front to Porthminster beach.

St Michaels Mount

If you haven't been to Cornwall before, then you really must visit St Michaels Mount, at Marazion in Mounts Bay. If you have been before its always worth another visit. It's a National Trust property so if you are a member you can get in for free though you will need to pay for parking and the ferry across. If the tides right you can walk across the Causeway. It has breathtaking views from the top, well worth the climb and the gardens are lovely.

The Minack Theatre.

Open to visitors during the day or perhaps try and take in a performance, with the backdrop of the ocean it's a magical experience.

The Minack wasn't built using diggers and heavy machinery, but mainly by the lady of the house (Rowena Cade) and her gardener. The rocks were cut and reshaped by hand and the cement was mixed with sand collected in sacks from the beach. To find out more about this amazing working theatre pay it a visit, have a look around and visit the exhibition. Perhaps even take in a show.

Lost Gardens of Heligan

These are one of Britain's most famous restorations in recent years. Rescued from a wilderness they have now become a must visit for all gardeners to see. Heligan is a garden for all seasons from a visit in the busy summer season or the more tranquil winter months, you will be guaranteed a unique experience.

Open all year (except Christmas Day), pre-booking is essential please check the website for times www.heligan.com

Gallos Sculpture & Tintagel Castle

Immerse yourself in history, myths and stunning scenery at Tintagel Castle set high on Cornwall's rugged north coast. Inextricably linked with the legend of King Arthur, for centuries this dramatic castle and coastline has fired the imaginations of writers, artists and even the brother of a king. You will be truly inspired.

Tintagel now has a new bridge to bring the separated halves of the Castle together. Don't miss the brooding figure on the island – Gallos (meaning 'power' in Cornish) – a life size bronze sculpture inspired by the legend of King Arthur and Tintagel's royal past.

Booking is again essential so please check the website for details
